COOL DELEGATES WANT BONUS & WHEAT BOARD

CALGARY, Nov. 29—Establishment of the Canadian dollar on a parity with the British pound sterling.

These requests were contained in resolutions approved by delegates to the Alberta Wheat Pool convention which closed on Monday.

The 70 delegates, representing 42,300 members decided to continue for another year the optional marketing plan of the past season, supported at the world wheat conference, and by the action of the directors' report in the final session urged the federal

The resolution on the dollar and sterling asked the Wheat Pool directors to work with the Alberta ernment and the United Farmers of Alberta "in pressing—upon the federal government the need for instituting the Canadian dollar on a parity with the British pound," or at a figure below the pound." In reviewing financial conditions the resolution pointed out that high tariffs and high exchange rates excluded Canada from many markets and that the existing rate of exchange with Britain precluded Canada from any benefits from the agreement reached at the Imperial Conference in Ottawa. It also deered "unparalleled low prices of farm products, acute distress and financial ruin are now overwhelming the farm population of western Nevada."

The resolution regarding a wheat bonus brought lengthy debate on the floor. The bonus should take, it was argued, but the final form only cleared the federal government should pay wheat producers a bonus as a means of assisting them during present economic conditions.

Hockey fans and coal men don't like the mild weather we have been having, but it has been a considerable saving for the average householder who has to worry about coal bills. But now it looks as though we are in for a change.

The Bassano Statistical Organization has been busy recording coming snow. Nothing new in that. They have been telling us the same story for the past two years. One of these times they'll be right.

We don't know yet where prosperity is, but anyway, Christmas is just around the corner.

And while we mention Christmas, what about doing that shopping early.

A London reporter worker has come forward with a means of prolonging life. Some of us may yet live to see the end of the depression.

A SEPARATE PROBLEM
After hearing the pile of organized labor that no new railway reforms be considered if they involved the throwing of more men out of work, the Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen, senate leader, was firm in insisting that economies on the scale must be effected in the operation of the C. N. R.

The government railway should be operated on a business basis and purely as a business proposition. It cannot be maintained as a measure of unemployment relief. Unemployment is a separate problem and must be dealt with separately.

It is a pity the government didn't put these big coal economies into effect two years ago instead of allowing operating costs to mount far above the ratio of previous years.

OPPOSITION TO LARGER PLAN
The bill dealing with Brownlee's scheme for larger municipal districts is in for rough passage when it comes before the legislature at the next session.

Hundreds of farmers and ranchers in the foothills districts have signed petitions, expressing a strong opinion against the new scheme. The Alberta Association of Municipal Districts, at their annual meeting recently, passed a resolution against its adoption.

This is strong opposition, and in spite of the premier's enthusiasm for the larger area scheme, supporters doubt if the bill will pass. Unless it is considerably modified, and modification will mean the objective Mr. Brownlee has in view.

Local prejudice and fear of losing local control in the administration of municipal affairs are the only basis of objection to the larger area scheme.

It is indeed unfortunate that a progressive step in municipal government, a step which would bring about economies, consolidation, and a more uniform road building policy, should be obstructed because of local prejudice.

Better than any argument against high tariffs are the trade grudge which tell the story of the way tariff walls curtail international business. At the Boston Cities Club (Conservative) puts it: "Down with that! Has been the story of international trade and commerce since every nation started to build a higher tariff wall than its neighbor's." Some of these days the different diplomatic statements, and politicians are going to come to and realize that by stifling trade they are causing unemployment and a hot season for themselves at election time.

JOURNERS' END

No matter how long it takes me to find

The snow-banded wood, the meadow, I knew,

Until they again greet my heart and mind

No port is a refuge, no journey is through.

Whether a year or a dozen from now,

Whether my eyes are in peace or in pain,

I'll handle the half of the friendly glow

That waits for the song of my hands again.

I'll drink of the wine I couldn't forget,

Rokkide the heart to a sunset light.

Stand where the dew on the clover is wet,

As gay in my heart as the day is bright;

Firm-rooted as last—as a man should be—

Tom jumps from a stream and next door to a tree!

ALBERTA FARM RELIEF

SCHEME IS ABANDONED
EDMONTON, Nov. 28.—Because Alberta farmers are still talking advantage of the federal government's loaning-out scheme for unemployed men that was never intended, the scheme is not being put into operation in this province. It is stated by A. A. MacKenzie, chairman of the unemployment relief committee.

The difficulty has arisen from farmers' unwillingness to help whom they had already in their employ, in expectation of their participating in the government scheme, under which they would receive a considerable sum per month for board and one of the unemployed men. A similar amount was to be paid to the boarder himself.

NO FOUNDATION TO RUMORS

OF EARLY FEDERAL ELECTION
OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—Parliamentary lobbies and corridors have been buzzing during the past week or so with election rumors. The Bennett government has been credited with a decision of dissolving the present parliament along in the late passage of the Finance Bill. The distribution, and going before the people. In spite of the currency which they have obtained, it may be unhesitatingly said on most excellent grounds that there is nothing whatever to the rumor. The Bennett government is not intending to add to the people in the spring. And Prime Minister Bennett himself has no intention of forming a national administration.

SOCIALISTIC IDEAS NEEDED

TO REVIVE NATION
OTTAWA, Nov. 28.—The action under the capitalist system, is staggering to the south, and must be bolstered by socialistic ideas, the House of Commons was advised today by Hon. Wm. S. Baker, Liberal North Waterloo. Canada has already adopted socialistic ideas in some regards—the post office, provincial irrigation systems, the hydro-electric in Ontario, and the Canadian National Railway, Mr. Baker said. Some modification of the capitalist system was needed to save the nation, said the Waterloo member.

ALBERTA'S WINNINGS AT

THE ROYAL WINTER FAIR
The 1933 Royal Winter Fair at Toronto will go down into history as Alberta's most successful fair for winners by exhibitors in live stock and grain products. The province, some 25 championships of all classes, including four grand championships, more than 80 first prizes, and a long list of seconds, thirds, and fourths, was recognized.

Of the grand championships, the most notable was in market cattle taken by a crossbred Shorthorn-Angus steer bred by the University of Alberta. This was the fourth time this championship had gone to the university farm. The other grand prizes, in brown turkeys, in Tamworth hogs, and in other classes. The turkey championship went to the Alberta Department of Agriculture, the swine championship to Geo. Hall, Edmonton, on a Tamworth boar; and the seed stock championship to Paul Sebastian, of Wembley, in the Peace River district. More than a dozen reserve championships were taken, including the reserve grand for Holstein bull by the C.P.R. farm near Calgary. The winnings made in Holstein cattle by Dr. Hays of Calgary and the C.P.R. farm, which collectively totaled more than for any other province in Canada for these classes, focused the attention of the live stock world upon Alberta, a province where foundation dairy stock can be raised with equal success as high quality beef cattle.

In beef cattle the province's wins were outstanding, relative to other provinces. Important wins were made by the University of Alberta, the University of Wales, and J. L. Walters, Clive; in Herefords, leading prize was won by the University of Alberta, taken by Colliet ranch near Calgary. In carlot of steers, first and second went to Alberta exhibitors. The McIntyre ranch, near Lethbridge, was also an important winner in beef cattle classes. Another important win was first in dual-purpose Shorthorn bulls, where an animal bred by the Alberta Department of Agriculture won out over well-known animals from eastern Canada and the United States. In sheep, large wins were made by Geo. Hall, Edmonton, and the C.P.R. farm. In turkeys all first prizes went to Alberta exhibitors, as well as important prizes in other poultry classes. In horses, a Clyde gelding bred and exhibited by J. Lewis Dalroy, Alberta, captured the special exhibit of the Saskatchewan Clydesdale Club, and the special of the Clydesdale Horse Association of Canada.

OIL PRODUCTION

INCREASE IN BIG GAME

Alberta's big game season, as reported by a considerable increase in big game this season, according to reports coming from hunting parties. One party of Americans, on a 30 day trip, in the Athabasca area west of Edmonton, reported having seen nearly 700 caribou and more than 200 moose, as well as other big game in plenty. In one day, travel they saw 46 moose, 25 caribou, 4 deer and 3 muskoxen. In the Brazeau area southwest of Jasper National Park, reports came of large numbers of elk. Hunters report little difficulty in getting adult male elk of ten points or over. His have enjoyed protection for 15 years.

According to the census taken last year there were more than 75,000 of the 97,400 farms in Alberta which reported having milk cows. More than 72,000 of the farms reported having poultry, and 79,000 farms reported having horses.

TO THIN

We hear a great deal of talk about "the dangers of overweight after forty." There is also danger in "underweight before thirty," and this should not be forgotten in this age of glenderness.

There is no definite measure of normal weight. We know the average weights for sex, age, and height, but the average does not necessarily mean normal. The long-legged person with a slender frame may be below average weight and still be normal. The average weights are a good guide, and the individual who is far from the average should seek the cause.

Under thirty years of age, weight tends to increase, and the average that is definitely below the average frequently associated with a rundown physical condition, and underweight is a warning sign of such a condition. The younger person who is thin has less power of resistance.

Tuberculosis cannot be cured simply by adding weight to the body, but the chances of developing the disease are lessened by having the body fortified against the germs of tuberculosis. Resistance can be built up with adequate food, rest, fresh air, and sunshine.

It is in the early adult years that tuberculosis strikes its largest harvest. Tuberculosis seldom develops in the healthy, well nourished body. The early adult years are particularly trying, for these years bring the young man and woman to the starting work of marriage and the beginning of the new home. To this is added, in women, the strain of

THEY—LAW
On Wednesday, Nov. 23, at 3 p.m., the home of Mr. and Mrs. P. W. Law, Chancellors, was the scene of a very pretty wedding when their only daughter, Mary Alice, became the bride of Harold A. Thew, eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Thew. The ceremony was performed by Rev. H. E. Gordon, of Husar. The bride was given in marriage by her father, who was charming in a gown of white satin, veiled, with hat to match. She carried a bouquet of pink roses and ferns. Miss Thew, sister of the groom, was in attendance. She wore a gown of black tulle, gold, and carried red roses and ferns. Mr. Arnold Law, brother of the bride, was best man. The wedding march was performed by Miss Violet Surplus, of Calgary. The ceremony was performed under an arch of pink and white tulle streamers and white trailing bells. The guests, who numbered thirty-four, were invited to the dining room where a bountiful dinner was served. The bride is a 1931 graduate nurse from the Calgary General Hospital. The groom is an industrial young gentleman in the Indian Springs district. Mr. and Mrs. Thew will be at home to their friends after Dec. 1. The wedding party included: Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Bryant, motored to Calgary Monday to attend the Walnut Pool convention; Mr. Bryant, a pool player, and F. Thew, motored to Turner Valley for a load of gas on Monday. Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Whitney just returned from a visit with relatives in Lethbridge. Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Harper were Calgary visitors last week. The many friends of Miss Lolo McKinney gave her a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. F. J. Harper. Miss Thew and Thew's home were visitors at the Thew home a few days last week. Mr. and Mrs. E. THE PICTURES

William Collier Jr., one of the screen's most popular young dramatic actors, plays a leading role opposite Miriam Hopkins and Jack Oakie in Paramount's "Dancers in the Dark," coming to the Grosvenor Theatre Thursday, Friday, and Saturday of this week. Dec. 2 and 3. Oakie's role is that of a musician playing in an orchestra headed by Oakie. Miss Hopkins is a taxi dancer in the dance hall where they play. "Dancers in the Dark" is a witty and good looking story. It has a lot of good laughs put over by the comedy experts, Jack Oakie and Eugene Pallette. It has an occasional bit of soft seductive dance music, and the satire synopses of the ever-popular "St. Louis Blues" to sharpen the drama of the climax. Miriam Hopkins has demonstrated her splendid dramatic versatility in the outstanding picture as "The Smiling Lieutenant" and "Dr. Jekyll and Mr. Hyde." She has beauty, mature, and personality. "Dancers in the Dark" was built for this blond fascination who in a surprisingly short time, has become a major box office asset. Jack Oakie has pronounced pulling power with innumerable fans in comedy roles, when there is a heart interest. "Dancers in the Dark" is a cracking type of picture. As a wacko cracking leader of a dance orchestra, he swaggers into love and melodrama of a most amusing and exciting variety. Bert Wheeler and Robert Woolsey.

The Price of Safety

Is Eternal Vigilance

Not only must the driver of an automobile drive with great care if he wishes to avoid accident, but his car must be in perfect condition so that it is at all times under his control. Neglected brakes which fail to hold or which cause the car to swing sideways are the cause of many accidents. How about the brakes on your car? Worn tires, worn axle bolts and spindles, and other worn parts also contribute their share to the danger element.

Have your car thoroughly inspected by an experienced mechanic and you will feel safer and be safer.
